I Rode With Morgan: A Descendant's Account of the Greatest Cavalry Raid of the Civil War

Follow Lt. Roland Jackson of the McNairy Cavaliers and Lt. Mitchell L. Stewart II of the 9th Kentucky Cavalry as they ride on Morgan's most daring exploits, including Shiloh, Hartsville, the Great Raid of 1863 into Indiana and Ohio, the raid on the USS Minnetonka, and the destruction of the L&N railroad tunnels at Gallatin. The story explores the close calls, tactical gambles, and wartime failures that shaped the course of history.

The action is so vivid you can smell the black powder and feel the thunder of hooves and gunfire, while the deeply personal accounts reveal bonds of brotherhood, loss, and legacy that endured long after the war ended, linking two families and the author's own ancestry.
